

Dear colleagues,

We invite you, or someone you think would benefit from the program, to apply for the 2022-2023 Yale Public Voices Fellowship, the 9th year this program has been at Yale. The ultimate goal of the program is faculty development, particularly for groups that are under-represented on campus, as well as to increase the influence of Yale's top scholars as thought leaders in national media, including op-ed pieces, TV/radio interviews, TED talks, social media and more. More information on the program, a list of previous participants and their testimonials can be found at wff.yale.edu/programs-events/public-voices-fellowship and theopedproject.org/fellowships.

We are now seeking applications. Women and under-represented minority faculty at Yale are especially encouraged to apply. To request a spot in next year's class of 20 Public Voices Fellows, please submit your applications by Thursday, June 30, 2022. Details of the application process are given below.

Please email us at wff@yale.edu or Reina Maruyama, WFF Chair and Professor of Physics, if you have any questions. We also invite you to forward this email to any faculty member you think might benefit from the Public Voices Fellowship.

Convening Dates:

All participants are expected to make every effort to attend all four quarterly sessions throughout the fellowship year. Tentative dates for these convenings are:

- KNOWLEDGE: September 28, 29, & 30, 2022 (zoom, 10 am to 1:30 pm)
- CONNECTION: November, 11, 2022 (in person, location TBD, 10 am to 5 pm)
- CONTAGION: February 9 & 10, 2023 (zoom, 10 am to 1:30 pm)
- LEGACY: April 14, 2023 (in person, location TBD, 10 am to 5 pm.)

Application:

Please submit the following via this google form by Thursday, June 30, 2022 (direct link at: <https://forms.gle/YRfn9vibBBxXjmmF6>)

- Brief description of your scholarship/work (limit to ~1 page double-spaced), including:
  - What issues would you like to write about and how will your ideas contribute to public conversations? Please indicate so if your scholarship has international relevance, as there is a funding source available for scholars involved in international work.
  - If applicable, describe the way in which your voice is under-represented.
- Brief Curriculum Vitae in pdf or doc format. Please include non-academic publications or other forms of communication if you have them.

We plan to announce Public Voices Fellows within a few weeks of the deadline.
